The company has property to the extent of about $2,000,000, and it is understood the purpose of the mortgage is to raise money with which to convert pot furnaces into tank furnaces.

A Daughter of Van Baker's.

Saturday's Steubenville Gazette says: A daughter of Van Baker lived at the residence of Captain Hall, of the electric light plant, until this morning, when she left the house in the Sixth ward, saying that she would return inside an hour. She did not return, and just before noon a pocket book containing $31 was missing. Mr. Hall notified the police, who learned at the depot that Miss Baker had got on the morning train for the east, but did not buy a ticket. It was supposed she had gone to Paris, Pa., where she has relatives, and was followed by Officer Kelly.

Two Sudden Deaths.

On Saturday afternoon Silas Straight, a resident of the First ward, fell to the ground in front of Welty's liquor store, on Market street, and expired in a few seconds. Paralysis of the heart is supposed to have been the cause of his death.

At 9 o'clock Saturday night Joseph Greer went down to the La Belle landing with his son. Complaining of feeling sick he was carried to the hoisting station and Dr. J. H. Pipes sent for. ### Mrs. W. H. Sheib Dead.

The following from the Pittsburgh Dispatch will be sad news to Mrs. Sheib's many Wheeling friends:
Musical circles will be shocked and grieved to hear of the sudden death yesterday morning, from erysipelas, of Mrs. Anna Mellor Sheib, sister of Mr. Charles C. Mellor. Mrs. Sheib's musical talent was shown early in youth, fostered by the home atmosphere and the best local instruction, and brought to high development by some years of study in Boston, Leipzig and Munich. After attaining prominence as a concert singer in Chicago and other western cities, she settled in Canton, O., where she remained in the front rank of that state's vocal teachers for a number of years. During the last two years Mrs. Sheib has resided at the old family home in this city, pursuing music simply for her own and her friends' enjoyment. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

THE NAILERS' SCALE

Will Not be Signed by the LaBelle Mill Company.

IT WILL PAY SCALE WAGES, THOUGH.

A Strike there thought to be Probable—The Nailers have not yet Taken Action, but will Probably quit Work on June 30—Boilers may Follow Suit.

On Saturday each of the nailers employed by the LaBelle mill received a notice which read as follows:

WHEELING, June 25, 1892.

DEAR SIR:—Our present contract with you as to the price of cutting nails expires June 30. We will run the factory for a while after that date, but owing to uncertainties connected with the nail business we will not make a contract for any definite length of time. If you are not willing to continue at work on this basis, please notify the manager at once.

About thirty nailers are employed at the LaBelle, and that mill has been running more regularly than any other in the city.

One of the nailers told an INTELLIGENCER reporter yesterday that as yet no action had been taken by the men, but he thought they would quit work on June 30, unless the managers changed their minds, and declare a strike. He said the company probably did not care much about continuing the nail factory, but the plate mill and muck department were more important, and he thought the boilers and rollers would come out with the nailers.

The Amalgamated scale has not yet been submitted to the manufacturers in this district, and it is hard to even conjecture what the result will be when it is.

The Bellaire Steel Plant Will Run On.
The Bellaire Independent of Saturday says: The Bellaire steel plant will run until the close of next week if the workmen will continue after the 30th. The present scale expires at that time and the new one has not yet been presented. The company has asked the men to work the full week, and if an advance in pay is agreed upon in the new scale they will pay it to the men for the time they work beyond the 30th, and if a reduction is agreed upon they do not want it paid back. This looks like a very fair proposition to the men and it is altogether probable they will make a full week next week. The steel works will then be closed down for repairs.

A CHILD CHOKED TO DEATH
By Getting a Peanut Kernel in Its Wind-pipe.

Yesterday afternoon at about 5 o'clock a very sad accident happened at Benwood, in which a little child was choked to death. The little girl was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Newton, and was about three years of age.

She was eating peanuts, when she was taken with a violent coughing spell, having the whooping cough, and having a kernel in her mouth at the time, it slipped down into the trachea. Her mother, noticing her condition, immediately seized the child and endeavored to extract it, but finding her efforts unavailing, she shrieked for help and sympathizing friends ran to the child's assistance. By this time the little one was gasping for breath and becoming blue in the face, when Mr. C. Bell came, and taking the child in his arms, hastened to the office of Dr. Haskins, which was about one square off.

The kernel had slipped so far down that the only hope, a very faint one, of saving the child's life was tracheotomy, which was performed by the doctors, but it was too late, and the little sufferer expired at the doctor's office, and was born home cold and rigid.

At the time of the occurrence the father was in Moundsville, but was dispatched for immediately. The mother's grief was heart rending.

The Benwood Primaries.

The following is the vote polled at Benwood in the Republican primary election which took place Saturday, with the names of candidates, and it will be seen that there was a very respectable sized turnout: For sheriff of Marshall county—C. O. Mathews, 169; W. M. Nowell, 70; G. S. McFadden, 45. For house of delegates—E. P. Bowman, 279; George B. Gaines, 257. For prosecuting attorney—T. J. Parsons, 215. For county commissioner—S. R. Davis, 224; Wm. Kemple, 41; J. L. Keyser, 12. For county surveyor—J. H. Conner, 184; J. C. Connelly, 71. For assessor, first district—J. T. Roseberry, 258; Wilbert Jones, 21. Union district ticket: For justice of the peace—Henry Riddle, 276; W. H. Bumgardner, 282. For constable—Chas. Sprouts, 277; P. M. Polly, 277. For road surveyor—G. A. Dowler, 284.

Rolled in the Dust.

A quarter after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a colored man attempted to board the outgoing Pittsburgh B. & O. train as it was passing the corner of Sixteenth and Market streets. He was jerked off his feet and rolled in the dust, and narrowly escaped being ground under the wheels. Instead of jumping the last car, he tried the second and was nearly run over by the coaches in the rear. His friends seemed to think it a splendid joke and laughed heartily as they brushed the dust off his clothes.
